

WELCOME

African-American History Month

The month's 2018 theme, "African-Americans in Times of War," commemorates the centennial of the end of the First World War, and explores the complex meanings and implications of this international struggle and its aftermath.

